QUOTE OF THE DAY

"The more I think about it, the more I realize there is nothing more artistic than to love others." – Vincent Van Gogh

"The philistine provides the best definition of art. Anything that makes him rage is first class." – Louis Dudek

"It is necessary to write, if the days are not to slip empty by. How else, indeed, to clap the net over the butterfly of the moment? for the moment passes, it is forgotten; the mood is gone; life itself is gone. That is where the writer scores over his fellows: he catches the changes of his mind on the hop. Growth is exciting; growth is dynamic and alarming. Growth of the soul, growth of the mind; how the observation of last year seems childish, superficial; how this year — even this week — even with this new phrase — it seems to us that we have grown to a new maturity. It may be a fallacious persuasion, but at least it is stimulating, and so long as it persists, one does not stagnate.” – Vita Sackville-West

“If you're a singer you lose your voice. A baseball player loses his arm. A writer gets more knowledge, and if he's good, the older he gets, the better he writes.” – Mickey Spillane

“God always has another custard pie up his sleeve.” – Lynn Redgrave
