QUOTE OF THE DAY

“As we continue to break new ground across diverse areas of policy and practice, I encourage you to continue to find ways to integrate the arts and culture within your work in tourism and beyond. There is potential to unlock new opportunities for artists and the tourism industry, and for residents and visitors alike in designing architecture and infrastructure that brings people together, showcasing art and artists that invite people to enter into conversation with one another, and in fostering opportunities for creative outlet for all people.” – NEA Chair Maria Rosario Jackson at the 2024 WI Governor’s Conference on Tourism

“Painting from nature is not copying the object; it is realizing one's sensations.” – Paul Cezanne

“When I first became interested in photography, I thought it was the whole cheese. My idea was to have it recognized as one of the fine arts. Today I don't give a hoot in hell about that. The mission of photography is to explain man to man and each man to himself.” – Edward Steichen

“Architecture is the will of an epoch translated into space.” – Ludwig Mies van der Rohe

“When people ask me if I went to film school I tell them, 'no, I went to films.’” – Quentin Tarantino

“You really have to look inside yourself and find your own inner strength, and say, 'I'm proud of what I am and who I am, and I'm just going to be myself.’” – Mariah Carey

“In critical moments even the very powerful have need of the weakest.” – Aesop
