QUOTE OF THE DAY

"All the world's a stage, and all the men and women merely players: They have their exits and their entrances; and one man in his time plays many parts..." – William Shakespeare

"One writes out of one thing only — one's own experience. Everything depends on how relentlessly one forces from this experience the last drop, sweet or bitter, it can possibly give. This is the only real concern of the artist, to recreate out of the disorder of life that order which is art." – James Baldwin

"You think your pain and your heartbreak are unprecedented in the history of the world, but then you read. It was Dostoevsky and Dickens who taught me that the things that tormented me most were the very things that connected me with all the people who were alive, or who ever had been alive. Only if we face these open wounds in ourselves can we understand them in other people. An artist is a sort of emotional or spiritual historian. His role is to make you realize the doom and glory of knowing who you are and what you are. He has to tell, because nobody else can tell, what it is like to be alive." – James Baldwin

"I am continually fascinated at the difficulty intelligent people have in distinguishing what is controversial from what is merely offensive." – Nora Ephron

"I don't deserve this award, but I have arthritis and I don't deserve that either." – Jack Benny
