QUOTE OF THE DAY

“Art distills sensations and embodies it with enhanced meaning.” – Miguel de Unamuno

“Painting is silent poetry, and poetry is painting with the gift of speech.” – Simonides

“Of all kinds of human energy, Art is surely the most free, the least parochial; and demands of us an essential tolerance of all its forms. Shall we waste breath and ink in condemnation of artists, because their temperaments are not our own?” – John Galsworthy

“Art is the one form of human energy in the whole world, which really works for union, and destroys the barriers between man and man. It is the continual, unconscious replacement, however fleeting, of oneself by another; the real cement of human life; the everlasting refreshment and renewal.” – John Galsworthy

“If you want others to be happy, practice compassion. If you want to be happy, practice compassion.” – Dalai Lama

“I think I did pretty well, considering I started out with nothing but a bunch of blank paper.” – Steve Martin

“Life itself is the proper binge.” – Julia Child

“Television has done much for psychiatry by spreading information about it, as well as contributing to the need for it.” – Alfred Hitchcock
