QUOTE OF THE DAY

"It is difficult to get the news from poems yet men die miserably every day for lack of what is found there." – William Carlos Williams

"The world is mud-luscious and puddle-wonderful." – e. e. cummings

"Life would be so wonderful if we only knew what to do with it." – Greta Garbo

"All the performances of human art, at which we look with praise or wonder, are instances of the resistless force of perseverance; it is by this that the quarry becomes a pyramid, and that distant countries are united with canals. If a man was to compare the single stroke of the pickaxe, or of one impression of the spade, with the general design and the last result, he would be overwhelmed by the sense of their disproportion; yet those petty operations, incessantly continued, in time surmount the greatest difficulties, and mountains are leveled and oceans bounded by the slender force of human beings." – Samuel Johnson

"Some problems are so complex that you have to be highly intelligent and well informed just to be undecided about them." – Laurence J. Peter

"My dad died, and my grandfather died, and my great-grandfather died. And the guy before him, I don't know. Probably died." – Norm Macdonald
