QUOTE OF THE DAY

“I think you can leave the arts, superior or inferior, to the conscience of mankind.” – William Butler Yeats

“A character is never the author who created him. It is quite likely, however, that an author may be all his characters simultaneously.” – Albert Camus

“Things change all the time, so why do people make such a philosophical to-do that things are constantly in transition?” – Twyla Tharp

“Life is pretty simple: You do some stuff. Most fails. Some works. You do more of what works. If it works big, others quickly copy it. Then you do something else. The trick is the doing something else.” – Tom Peters

“Poor Faulkner. Does he really think big emotions come from big words? He thinks I don’t know the ten-dollar words. I know them all right. But there are older and simpler and better words, and those are the ones I use.” – Ernest Hemingway
